

Up and away with the Schauinsland cable car – incredible views from Freiburg's local mountain

Includes Schauinsland cable car!

Lift me up:

Discover life at 1,284 metres above the rest of the world: Leave everyday cares below you and allow yourself to delight in the many attractions offered by Freiburg's highest destination.

With the longest loop cable car in Germany, you glide a distance of 3.6 kilometres and climb almost 750 metres in altitude, reaching a height of 1,220 metres in just 20 minutes. Enjoy the most comfortable and environmentally-friendly ascents up Freiburg's landmark mountain whilst admiring the spectacular panoramic view over Freiburg and the Rhine Valley as far as the blue band of the Vosges. The Schauinsland cable car is accessible for wheelchairs etc.

How to get there

Take tram number 2 from Freiburg to the last stop in Günterstal and then catch the number 21 bus directly to the cable car station. You can be there within 20 minutes of leaving the city centre (Bertoldsbrunnen) – then the only way is up.
